DEVIL'S DIARY

1962

Published by

The students of GAMEWELL HIGH SCHOOL
Lenoir, North Carolina

PRELUDE

We, the Annual Staff of the Devil's Diary, are proud that we can be a part of bringing back the memories in the years to come of our beloved high school days and half our joys renew. The sound of music will always prevail in the halls of our alma mater as well as in our hearts. Thus, we have tried to capture some of the beauty and gaiety by presenting the Devil's Diary in a musical manner.

When you glance through this book in years to come, may you close it with a gleam in your eyes, a smile on your lips, and a song in your heart.

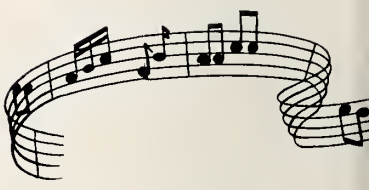
The Sound of Music is a sound of Harmony . . .

Our secretary's work is a "song without end."

Rita, I think this ought to be about here.



Student Council governs the movement of the student body by enforcing the rules made by its five officers and nine members.

Harmony through working together.

In searching for one to whom we might dedicate this yearbook, we found you, Miss Lelia Judson Tuttle, a person of great character. This expression of gratitude is but a small tribute to one who has meant so much to us all.

Your life has been a mirror. We know that you are a descendant of the Norse god of Thunder, and your reflection on us has been just that impressive. When your father returned from the Civil War, he helped to build a church before he started to work on his own home. This is a characteristic of the Tuttle family that put God first in their lives.

We want to thank you for your inspiration. As Jonathan Edwards, one of your own ancestors, inspired early citizens of this country, you have been an inspiration in our lives. We know how richly you have been endowed with love of your fellow man. We hope that our lives might touch as many lives as yours has.

You have shown a definite interest in us, and you have certainly been an interesting figure in our community. This year you gave books to our libraries. Not so long ago, when we were younger, you told us stories.

Around the world three times, and never in the same direction, is an experience to be remembered. As a missionary, you gave of your lust to the Chinese. Your fondest memories are probably of the Chinese people, and perhaps your saddest memory was having to leave China at a time when they needed you most--a time when you were imprisoned in your own home during the war with the Japanese. Many memories, we feel sure, may be recaptured by the souvenirs and mementos that adorn many areas of your home. Growing up in the atmosphere of a personality such as yours cannot be driven from our minds. We will always have fond memories of you.

We just want, in some small way, to express our appreciation . . . Thank you.

Miss Tuttle at Soo Chow University.
